1. A Soviet floating dock, composed of two sections, arrived in the naval basin of the Swinemünde shipyard on 9 August 1951 and is now anchored there. Its origin is not known.
2. During the first ten days of August the Russians mounted six coastal artillery guns on the permanent concrete positions located at the intersections of the Swine river and the canal. The guns, which were transported by railroad from the interior of Poland, are believed by source to have a caliber of about 150 mm; they are set about 40 meters apart on the emplacements and are well camouflaged.
3. Observed in the harbor at Swinemünde was an unusual number of small Soviet ships including:
  - 21 rapid motor boats: five of the GO class and 16 of the OK class; the latter bore a three-numbered designation
  - 20 trawlers, six of which were equipped with radar
  - 12 torpedo-cutters
4. Early in the morning of 11 August two Russian destroyers, each with two smokestacks, were observed proceeding in an easterly direction about five miles distant from the Swinemünde coast.
5. The naval coast artillery at Janogrod, near Misdroy, has been augmented by the addition of four guns which have been mounted on permanent concrete positions. These guns are serviced by part of a naval contingent of 300 men stationed at the same location. The men are quartered in a large barracks which formerly was a German hospital.
6. A rapid motor torpedo boat, the ST-81 and the OKON, a gunboat (kanonierka), have been added to the Polish naval units based at Swinemünde.
